ement This one is a little different from the others I've posted, so I figured I'd get it out there and hope some of you guys like it. It's got a little story, a little connection, a little relatable-ness and a whole lot of love. I hope you enjoy! ----- On an ordinary day, a dad sits his son down for a talk. "Listen, son. I've been thinking about something you said the other day." He begins to tell the story of a family that loves each other. "But lately, it's been getting pretty hard for them to live this love together. It seems like every time they get into an argument, they get worse. I don't know what to do. It feels like it's getting worse and worse." The boy replies, "Well, dad. I haven't been feeling that way. Maybe it's because things are going so good for us. I'm starting to realize that we are family and that's what families are for. I want us to start feeling the love that we have for each other." "You know, son, sometimes when we are in an argument, I can be so mad at you that I don't even want to talk to you. Even though I love you, sometimes I get so angry that I don't know if I can control myself." "Dad, I really want us to work through this and figure out how we can be better to each other. And I don't want to see you get mad anymore." "I want that too, son. But you know, there's one more thing I want you to know. You see, I'm mad at you sometimes, too. And it's okay for me to get mad at you. Even though I love you, I don't have to like it when you do things that hurt me. I don't want us to stop being a family because we don't always feel the same way about things." "But, dad, I think it's better to understand that things happen in life and we have to live with them. We all have our ups and downs. It's okay. But if we always feel so bad, we won't have any fun or enjoy our life." "I know, son, but the only thing I can do is tell you that I love you and I always want to feel the love I have for you. I hope that when we live 82157476af
